Message from Our President & CEO

As Family Service League celebrates our 85th year of providing health and human services to Long Island children and families, it is also an important time for us to look ahead.

What we have accomplished throughout these 85 years has been tremendous and was no simple feat. Our past Board members, staff, donors, volunteers and certainly my predecessor, Rick Van Dyke, all were instrumental in creating the organization FSL is today. Throughout the past 85 years, there have been many changes, and no matter how each of us feels about those changes – change has been a constant.

Change is necessary to propel us forward, to think about what we achieved and how we achieved it and it provides us with the opportunity to look ahead – with vision.

Some of the most significant changes in our future involve service delivery in health care – specifically in the delivery of mental health services. While some of these changes may turn out to be good, they will challenge all of us to develop new business models of service delivery. The evolution of Health Homes will result in better care coordination for people who suffer with chronic and severe mental illness and reduce expensive hospitalizations and costly emergency room care. FSL has been positioning itself for the past two years to make these changes and we are making bold and innovative changes to do this effectively. With the October launch of our Community Health Care Collaborative (CHCC), in partnership with Southside Hospital, care coordination will improve for hundreds of adults with chronic psychiatric illnesses. This demonstration project will set the stage for future such projects throughout Suffolk County.

The future also belongs to Community Schools. In partnership with the JP Morgan Chase Foundation, FSL is entering its second year of operating a Community School in the Brentwood School District. The underlying philosophy of Community Schools is to not only educate children but to also help strengthen their surrounding communities by combining educational excellence with critical supports, services and opportunities.

We remain committed to helping individuals who are homeless to find and stay in a home, thus ending the cycle of homelessness for as many people as possible. In July, 2010, we opened our first group home for six men who were previously homeless, collectively for more than 25 years. By integrating care and providing a wide array of support services, these men live their lives independently in the community. We look forward to expanding these services in the future with additional supportive housing programs. Permanent supportive housing is the most effective long-term solution for addressing the needs of people who are homeless.

It has been said that the future belongs to those organizations that are part of the change process. Family Service League is accustomed to change and embraces the challenge. My thanks to our loyal donors and friends who have supported the mission of Family Service League for many years and I hope we can continue to count on you for the next part of our journey.

President & CEO

MISSION STATEMENT

Family Service League helps individuals, children, and families to mobilize their strengths and improve the quality of their lives at home, in the workplace, and in the community.

The Brentwood Community School to Begin Year 2

Family Service League's Brentwood Community School opened its doors at the Freshman Center of the Brentwood Union Free School District (BUFSD) in October 2010. The Brentwood Community School (BCS) is the first and only Community School in Suffolk County. The JP Morgan Chase Foundation (JPMC) was the initial investor in this project on Long Island, a national model of 5,000 schools in the country. The Brentwood School District is the largest school district in New York State, outside of New York City, with nearly 17,000 students, has a high poverty rate and a dearth of community resources. JP Morgan Chase continues to provide financial support for this project as the goal is to assemble and coordinate community resources that work together to create a community center with varied services for families along with enhanced academic programming. FSL, as lead agency, is working hard to accomplish this and will serve hundreds of children and families in its second year of operation.

Vinford Mentar, (center) Vice President of Community Relations for JP Morgan Chase, presents a check in the amount of $150,000 to Karen Boorshtein, Family Service League President and CEO as they are joined by New York State Assemblyman Phil Ramos, and staff of Family Service League and the Brentwood Community School.

Military Family Assistance Project Helps Our Heroes

Mark has been in the Army for eight years, completing three tours in Iraq in imminent danger zones. During these tours he suffered significant injuries which have produced dramatic changes to his previous way of life. Some of the injuries he sustained in combat have been broken bones which required pins and a metal plate to mend; removal of shrapnel from explosions, a back injury, traumatic brain injury and PTSD. Upon his return home from active duty, Mark moved in with his parents. He would like to find an apartment of his own and his own transportation. In an effort to begin to rebuild his civilian life, Mark has decided to return to school and find gainful employment. He registered to begin classes in the Fall Semester and has found an apartment. Mark's parents have been extremely supportive and generous but they cannot help him with the down payment for the car or the first month's rent and security for the apartment. Beyond those initial expenses, he will have sufficient income to pay his monthly bills. Through the Active Military Assistance Program, sponsored by United Way of Long Island, Mark has been able to secure both down payments, will begin classes in the Fall semester and move into his own housing. Mark is now able to begin a new chapter in his life. He will now be able to work toward his education and employment goals with help from this important program.

FSL Offers Free Computer Training to Nassau County Veterans

As a service to assist those who have served our country in the armed forces, Family Service League is offering a free 12-week course in computer training in Fall 2011. Classes are open to veterans residing in Nassau County and are held on Mondays and Wednesdays from September through December in Roslyn. John Kornreich, funder and originator of this program, has acknowledged the emerging need for veterans to gain access to computer training to enhance computer skills for employment and/or personal enrichment.

Students will be given instruction in Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook, keyboarding and basic Internet applications that can be utilized in office positions. Upon successful completion of the class, students will receive a certificate of completion for specified training.

Southside Hospital & FSL Serve People with Mental Illness in a Community Health Care Collaborative

This project, the first-of-its-kind on Long Island, will integrate Behavioral Healthcare with Primary Healthcare for 200 individuals with severe and chronic mental health conditions. The project will follow the Health Home model, a strategy for measurably improving health outcomes for chronically ill (both physically and psychiatrically) populations that has been implemented in communities across the country.

The Health Home model, despite the name, is not a residential program. Rather than a physical place, it represents a strategy for helping individuals with chronic conditions to manage those conditions better. Central to this strategy is close contact with a Care Manager for continuing care, who coordinates the complex care needs of a chronically ill individual. Other principles include: Superb access to care, patient engagement in care, clinical information systems, care coordination, team care, patient feedback and publically available information.

Intrinsic to this project will be the placement of a Southside Hospital licensed medical professional (either a Physician or Nurse Practitioner) on site at Family Service League's Behavioral Health Clinic at its Iovino South Shore Family Center for seventeen (17) hours each week who will provide basic health services and coordination of specialty care, referrals to specialty medical providers and monitoring of medications. Working in concert with the physician, the Care Manager will function as the "hub" of the program; he or she will coordinate each client's services, ensure that referrals are made and followed through with, prescriptions are filled, etc., and will follow up with both the client and health professionals.

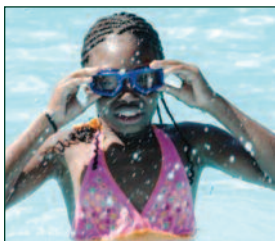

Camp & Home Safe Programs Help a Family in Need

In 2010, staff in Home Safe began working with a family consisting of a single Mother "Rachel" and her 13 year old daughter "Abigail". At the time, Rachel had requested that we assist her in finding a camp program for Abigail. Abigail didn't have many friends, and she spent a lot of time at home helping her Mother care for her developmentally disabled uncle. It was already late in the season, so we were unsure it would happen.

Rachel's Home Safe worker contacted Family Service League's Camp program and worked with the coordinator who was able to find a camp, free of charge for Abigail.

Abigail went away to camp and had a wonderful time! She made many friends and was very happy. She often spoke about Camp, the fun she had, and the friends she made.

In 2011, Rachel called and asked for help in sending Abigail to camp again. So, we worked with the Family Service League Camp program coordinator who was again able to find a 2 week camp program for Abigail. This was especially important as Abigail's uncle had passed away 4 months prior.

Two weeks ago, we received a call from Rachel, who told us what a wonderful experience Abigail had. This year was even better than last year. Camp has helped Abigail create great memories and have the fun 14 year olds are supposed to have.

The Townwide Fund of Huntington presented a gift of $15,000 to FSL which will be used for family support services and the County-Wide Counseling program. Pictured l-r: Townwide Fund Grants Committee Chair Vita Scaturro, FSL President & CEO, Karen Boorshtein, Townwide Fund President Michael Mulé
