Welcome to the 28th annual Great Chefs of Long Island fundraiser. We appreciate you joining us virtually to share this special celebration. It is truly a privilege to have the opportunity to recognize distinguished honorees who have supported the FSL mission of service. Congratulations to Paul Fleishman and Northwell Health's South Shore University Hospital. This evening is made possible through the contributions of many. Our heartfelt appreciation goes to our dedicated Co-Chairs, Committee members, sponsors, and volunteers. These efforts have an impact on the care we provide to children and adults every day.

Although Long Island is considered by many to be affluent there are thousands of people enduring severe hardships - poverty, homelessness, struggling with the challenges of mental illness, or living with the destruction of addiction. All of these issues are exacerbated by the Covid-19 health emergency. For over 90 years, FSL has delivered tangible help and crisis intervention across a broad spectrum of areas offering education, support, medical care, and counseling services. During this critical time, our programs are more relevant than ever, and we thank you for your generous support. Together, we are making a difference in the lives of our neighbors. Your compassion and vision have been vital to our mission of helping to Restore Hope and Rebuild Lives.

Please accept our thanks for joining us and extending your hearts to help those less fortunate on their journey toward a better life!

South Shore University Hospital, formerly Southside Hospital

Proud Recipients of the Corporate Leadership Award

South Shore University Hospital, formerly Southside Hospital, is a 300-bed hospital with physicians, nurses and other clinical and ancillary staff who provide healthcare services in all medical specialties.

As Northwell's most eastern tertiary hospital and a Level II trauma center, they are an integral member of Long Island's South Shore community, providing quality care for over 100 years. With top rated physicians, leading-edge research and the most advanced technology, South Shore has put their hearts into building award-winning clinical programs including heart and lung, stroke, orthopedics, obstetrics and gynecology, in addition to many others. South Shore has been ranked as one of the 50 Best Hospitals in U.S. News and World Report for heart surgery, and its Centers of Excellence include Heart and Lung, Orthopedics, Neurosciences and Women's Health.

South Shore University Hospital has expanded its reach as a regional destination for high-quality care on Suffolk's south shore and is an important academic teaching center for the Donald and Barbara Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell, providing residency programs, fellowships training and medical student rotations in obstetrics/gynecology, emergency and family medicine.

"Rebranding Southside as South Shore University Hospital provides a platform to tell the hospital's story in a way that's unencumbered by perceptions of the distant past," said Donna Moravick, NP, referencing its status as a financially distressed hospital before it became a fully owned member of Northwell. "The name change represents an exciting milestone that positions the hospital for even greater success in the years ahead."

COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP AWARD

PAUL FLEISHMAN

"Family Service League is consistently one of our region's most respected and effective organizations, so receiving this Community Leadership Award from FSL-LI is especially humbling. Long Islanders are indeed blessed to have this strong, smart and dynamic non-profit agency here in our community providing vital services to the people who need it most."

Paul Fleishman recently retired from Newsday after 23 years where he was Vice President of Public Affairs, wrapping up his career as an accomplished Long Island media executive with extensive experience across the broadcasting and publishing fields. At Newsday Paul managed community affairs, corporate communications and signature community programs such as the Newsday High School Marching Band Festival, High School awards programs, Life's Victories breast cancer awareness program and Newsday Charities, which conducts annual campaigns and makes sizeable grants to local organizations assisting at-risk children and families.

Paul began his media career as a news reporter/desk assistant at a small Freeport radio station in 1970. He spent the next 26 years in the Long Island radio business, ultimately as General Manager of WBAB and WBLI before joining Newsday.

Throughout his career Paul has been a supporter, leader and advocate for many community, non-profit and business groups. Since 1990, he has been on the Board of Directors of the United Way of Long Island, where he is also on the Board's Executive Committee and Chair of the Marketing Committee. He is on the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of Variety Child Learning Center in Syosset and the Advisory Board of SUNY/Old Westbury's School of Business. Over the years he and his broadcasting and Newsday teams have received numerous awards for public service, journalism, marketing and community affairs accomplishments.

Paul is a proud lifelong resident of Long Island, growing up in Long Beach and now living in Hauppauge with his family.

A new name. A new experience.

Southside Hospital is becoming South Shore University Hospital

Transformation is profound change. The kind you can see and experience. It's facilities, remodeled. Top doctors, recruited. And capabilities, reimagined.

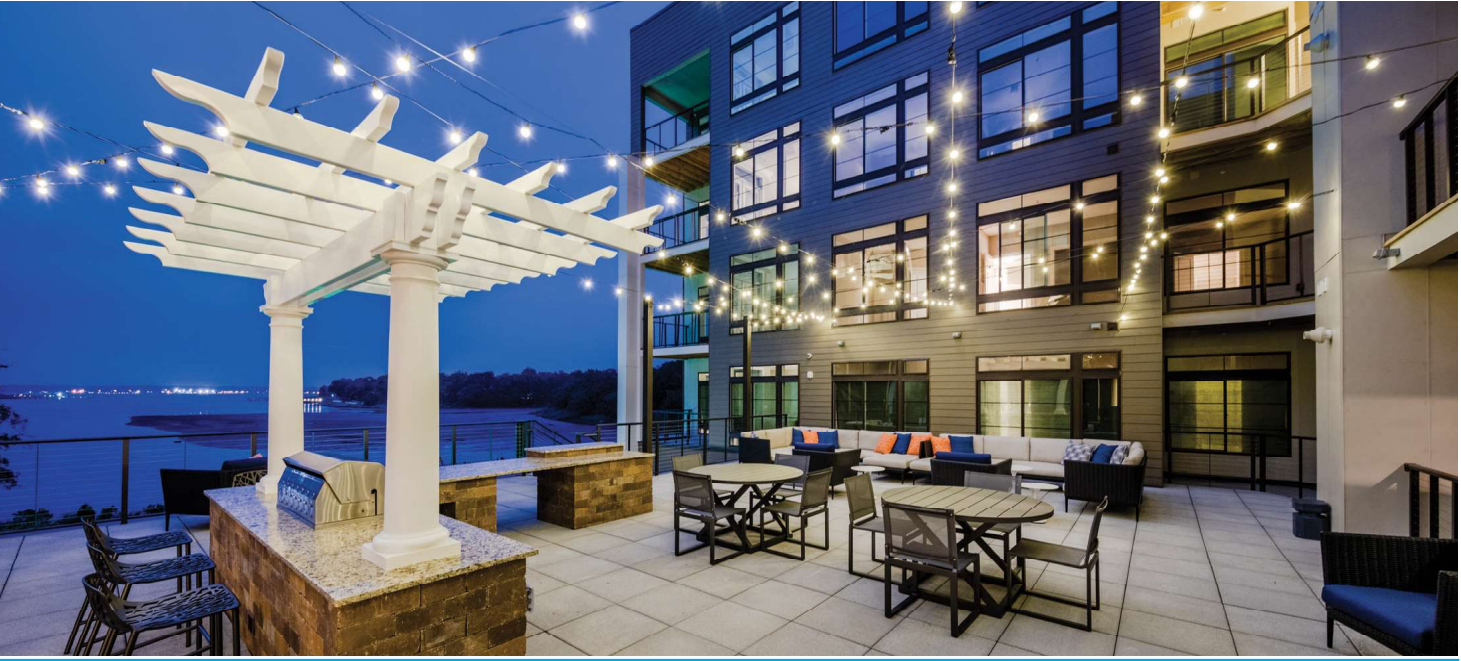

It's making vital updates to safely and effectively care for our community. So whether we treat your heart, your brain—or your loved one—you'll know you're in the very best hands.

South Shore University Hospital will be much more than a rename; it's an entirely transformed experience—coming January 2021.
